

I am writing in protest of discontinuing the do not call list. Up until the time that I joined the list I was still receiving calls for my husband that has passed away three years ago. It is very hard taking calls directed to him and then to find out it is from a telemarketer. I should not have to be harrassed in this way! I have requested time and again that my number be removed from there calling list, but to no avail. They do not care how they disrupt peoples lives as long as they get the money in their pockets!
